Sandra and Kevin Frank, 39 Robert Mills Circle

Brooke Niznik, 82 Ponsbury Road

2019's First Yard of the Month Recipients

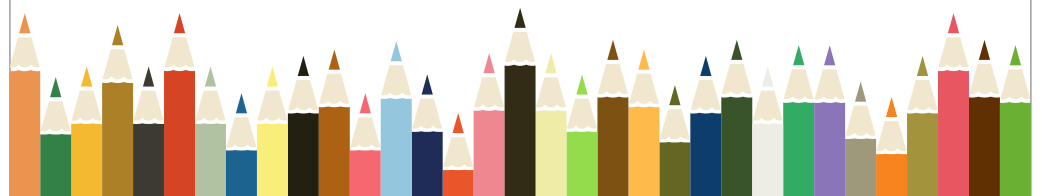

The beautiful spring weather is upon us, and the I'On landscape is coming to life! The Landscaping Committee is thrilled to announce the two first Yard of the Month winners for 2019.

Sandra and Kevin Frank moved into their gorgeous home at 39 Robert Mills Circle overlooking the marsh in 2015. They immediately set to work on their garden and have transformed it into a beautiful sunny, colorful spot. With a lush lawn providing the canvas, the Frank's flower beds and containers are awash with vibrant annuals that are continuously rotated through the seasons.

Brooke Niznik built her home at 82 Ponsbury Road in the year 2000 when Ponsbury was a dirt road and there were just 50 finished houses. Evolving over the years, Brooke's "secret garden" is a green, serene oasis with an ever-present cooling breeze. It is Brooke's "respite from the world", where she gladly "loses all track of time".

This month's sponsor for Yard of the Month is Crushed Fine Wine. A huge thank you to them for their generous donation of a $50 gift certificate to each winner! A special thanks to our winners and to all those who took the time to nominate their favorite yard.

To nominate a yard for the next Yard of the Month contact Michele Wilson by May 25th.

This Month With I'On's Design Committee

Maintaining your home is critical to preserving the look of I'On.

Your I'On Design Committee is constantly reviewing new construction materials that withstand the high humidity/hot sun environment of the Lowcountry. To be considered, new alternate materials should closely match the aesthetic appearance of the natural product they are replacing.

As an example, the IDC now approves Hardie Artisan fiber cement siding based on its superior protection against outdoor elements as a substitute for wood siding. The IDC has heard from many of you regarding the difficulty in maintaining wooden garage doors due to humidity damage resulting in warping and wood rot. While the I'On Code specifies "wood" for garage doors, the IDC may grant variances for alternate material garage doors based on new developments in the design and manufacturing techniques. These synthetic products must maintain the high quality and appearance of the original wooden garage doors. Metal and vinyl garage doors have long been the standard in tract developments. The IDC's consideration of alternate materials is not a move to allow low cost garage doors in I'On.

Like all new building or renovation projects in I'On, your garage door selection must be approved by the IDC. Your door design choice should match the architectural style of your home. Only carefully selected panel design together with high quality hardware can replicate the look of a real wood door.

The I'On Trust: Great Events To Know About Now

Supper Club

It is exciting to report there has been a great support for the Supper Club. The first weekend in May will see 15 groups kick off Supper Club with their inaugural supper! Hopefully, throughout the year, these groups will continue to meet and enjoy making new connections. Thank you to all those who have supported this idea - bon appétit!

Grub On The Green

Due to the dog days of summer the food trucks will only be back in June (the 6th and 20th) this year. There will be a special back to school Grub On The Green event in August. Make sure to come out in June to show your support for the local food vendors so they will keep coming! Additional information will be included in the newsletter and an e-mail will be sent closer to the events.

July 4th Parade and Concert

It's never too early to start planning for a parade! And the annual July 4th Parade will be here before you know it. Whether you want to volunteer or participate click here to learn more about how you can be involved!

The Giving Lights of I'On

I'On's Community Garden & Butterfly Garden 🦋

Are teaming up for First Friday

The I'On Community Garden and Butterfly Garden are for the first time co-hosting First Friday in the garden on Eastlake Road, Friday May 3 from 6:00 - 8:00 pm. Spring is a wonderful time to be outside at the garden! The weather is mild and the garden area is full of vegetables, herbs, and flowers lovingly cultivated by community gardeners and butterfly garden volunteers. Everyone is excited to have you visit and see "how our garden grows."

Strolling the garden area, relaxing in an informal setting, and enjoying the sights and sounds of nature is a unique way to experience the food, drink, and company of friends and family at First Friday. As a bonus, no one has to apologize for spilling their wine or food on their hosts' rugs or furniture!

Arrive early enough and you might see one of several Monarch butterflies that have spent recent days in the garden enjoying the plentiful flower nectar and their favorite nursery plant – milkweed. Let's hope they lay lots of eggs and their caterpillars grow to be the next Monarch generation.

For more information regarding the Community Garden contact April Gordon.

I'On At Home

Salutes A Volunteer

I'On At Home's volunteers are at the heart of IAH's mission and success and want to recognize those individuals who give their time and talent to help their neighbors. One does not have to be an IAH member to volunteer with them. They only need a willingness to give back to the I'On community!

This month, IAH would like to single out Bob Hardie, aka Bob Handy! When a household chore is requested, Bob responds. In fact, he has made about 20 visits to over a dozen households – doing tasks such as repairing, replacing, lifting, changing, adjusting, unjamming, mounting, and preparing for hurricanes. If it's not working, Bob's your man. And he always arrives with a smile!

Thank you, Bob. You continue to make the I'On community and homes a better place. I'On At Home and the I'On community are most grateful for your continued service and dedication.

Little Free Library

Books Abound

Thanks to all of the donations you have made over the last four years to The Little Free Library (LFL) it now has more books than can be used!

The good news: Everyone has done well supplying the LFL by taking a book and putting in a book. The not-so-good news: The books being dropped off at Kay Chitty's house as a donation are, unfortunately, being given to the used book store because there is no more space for them!

The LFL asks that you find a new home for your books. Moving forward, any books left at Kay's house will be recycled. Some of them are beautiful books that deserve a proper new home.

Thank you for the amazing support of the Little Free Library. Hopefully, you'll continue to use and enjoy it!

Your Help Is Needed

Holiday Decorating Around I'On

Susy Teale and Connie Altergott have for the last four years organized the holiday decorating and wreath fluffing. They have done a wonderful job leading the charge, but they are looking for two to three volunteers willing to take it over in 2019. The neighborhood wouldn't be the same during the holidays without the garland trimming the Westlake bridges, wreaths hung from the lamp posts, and lights being hung on the Christmas trees at Maybank Green and the Boathouse. If you are interested in taking over this great tradition please contact Susie or Connie.

I'On At Home

First, Arlyn Stoy has submitted her resignation as IAH's Member Services Coordinator. She would like to dedicate more time to the upcoming activities surrounding her daughter's senior year in high school and college preparations! Arlyn's dedication to IAH has been a critical part of the success IAH has had and she will be dearly missed. Everyone at IAH wish her and her family the very best!

IAH's strategic plan for the last two years has been to have an Executive Director. This change will improve the organization's sustainability as it transitions from the founding Board of Directors. They took on many duties that traditionally would belong to paid staff. With this, IAH is now searching for someone to fill this important role. If you or someone you know is interested please click here to view the full job description and apply. You will find the red link on the right just under the green job announcement title.

I'On Communications Committee

The Communications Committee is dedicated to delivering current events to the I'On Community through the newsletter, Living In I'On. To keep this newsletter published each month a group of talented volunteers and an editor is required. The current editor, Leah Simmons will no longer be a resident of the I'On community and a new editor is required. If you are interested in being a volunteer on the Communications Committee and in being the new editor of Living In I'On please contact Leah Simmons. She is happy to answer your questions regarding the position and will help transition you into this fun and dynamic role!

I'On Trust

Many great events are hosted by the I'On Trust throughout the year. This could not be done without the great help of volunteers. If you are interested in volunteering at any of their events please contact Margaret Summers.
